WEEK OF COMPASSION OFFERING 2012 --

This special offering on Sunday, February 26th.

While most of us live lives of abundance and have more than we need, we share a world with millions, who are struggling in the developing world and in areas where disaster has struck or extreme poverty exists. God has created a world of abundance, with enough resources to feed and sustain the entire world. Our task is to share that good news of enough by sharing what we have. For 68 years, Week of Compassion has been making a difference by funding relief and development all over the world. Our gifts ensure that people in need will get what they need, and moves us one step closer to making sure everyone gets what is rightfully theirs, just as God created the world to be.

In considering your contribution to this special offering, please consider the following facts from the World Health Organization's Fact Files and statistics from the United Nations' World Food Program Website:

- Water scarcity affects one in three people on every continent of the globe. The situation is getting worse, as needs for water rise along with population growth, urbanization and increases in household and industrial uses.
- Almost one fifth of the world's population (about 1.2 billion people) lives in areas where the water is physically scarce. One quarter of the global population also lives in developing countries that face water shortages due to a lack of infrastructure to fetch water from rivers and aquifers.
- An estimated 2.6 billion people lack access to adequate sanitation, globally. If the current trend continues, by 2015 there will be 2.7 billion people without access to basic sanitation.
- Every US$1 invested in improved sanitation translates into an average return of US$9. Those benefits are experienced specifically by poor children and in the disadvantaged communities that need them most.
- The number of children under five years of age who suffer from under nutrition is estimated to be 178 million, and 40% of those live in Africa and Southeast Asia.
- About 90% of the world's resources for health are spent by less than 20% of the world's population, living mostly in wealthier countries. Poorer regions, such as Africa and Southeast Asia, have the largest share of disease and 37% of the world's population, but spend 2% of global resources on health.
- About two-thirds of child deaths are preventable through access to practical, low-cost interventions, and effective primary care up to five years of age.
- 925 million people do not have enough to eat - more than the populations of the U.S., Canada and the European Union. (Source: FAO news release, 14 September 2010)
- 10.9 million children under five die in developing countries each year. Malnutrition and hunger-related diseases cause 60 percent of the deaths. (Source: The State of the World's Children, UNICEF, 2007)
- Under nutrition contributes to 53 percent of the 9.7 million deaths of children under five each year in developing countries. (Source: Under five deaths by cause, UNICEF, 2006)
- In the countries most heavily affected, HIV has reduced life expectancy by more than 20 years, slowed economic growth, and deepened household poverty. (Source: 2008 UNAIDS Global Report on the AIDS Epidemic)
- In sub-Saharan Africa alone, the HIV epidemic has orphaned nearly 12 million children aged under 18 years. (Source: 2008 UNAIDS Global Report on the AIDS Epidemic).

Please ponder these facts as you consider your contribution to this very important opportunity to share with our brothers and sisters around the world. May we always remember that SHARING BRINGS JOY. . . TO US. TO OTHERS. TO GOD.
