April 10, 2012

Would you like to hear about the proposed changes to the sanctuary's electrical and sound systems?

On Sunday, April 15th at 5:30pm friends and members of our church are invited to meet in our sanctuary to learn about these proposed improvements. As you will hear, these improvements will make it possible for our 11:11 service to worship each Sunday in our sanctuary. At this meeting you will also have an opportunity to express your opinions and ideas on both the proposed improvements and the change of worship location. I hope you will plan to be present for this important meeting.

Many Thanks,

David

THANK YOU!

Dear KHCC Family,

We would like to take this opportunity again to thank you for all of the expressions of love and support you have provided to both of us for the nearly 10 months since Chris became ill.

Thank you for all of your prayers, phone calls, cards, notes and all other support. Chris is now home and recuperating from what we hope will be his final surgery. At times, it has seemed that this long ordeal will never end, but God has been steadfast in his care and healing of Chris. Our faith assures us that God will continue to heal and strengthen Chris throughout his ongoing recovery.

Your love and support have helped both of us to stay strong to face the challenges we have had. You have given so much support, and it seems almost too much to ask you to continue to pray for Chris' healing and strength. Though he has come a long way, he still has a lot of challenges ahead. We feel so blessed to be a part of such a loving and caring church family, and we thank you with our deepest sense of gratitude.

Gratefully yours,

Chris and Mary Anne Bowie

A "Note" from the KHCC Music Department

CHRIST THE LORD IS RISEN TODAY

John and Charles Wesley found themselves out of favor with many fellow Anglican ministers who spurned their fiery evangelistic preaching. Many pulpits were closed to them.

A friend from Charles' Oxford days, George Whitefield, twenty-two, who was having the same trouble, began preaching in the open air. In London, he asked Charles to stand with him as he preached to thousands in the open air at Blackheath, and Charles, too, got a vision for reaching the multitudes.

He made his first attempt in the outskirts of London. "Franklyn, a farmer, invited me to preach in his field," he wrote. "I did so to about 500. I returned to the house rejoicing." Soon he was preaching to thousands. "My load was gone, and all my doubts and scruples. God shone upon my path; and I knew this was his will concerning me."

A man named Joseph Williams heard Charles in Bristol: "I found him standing on a table-board, in an erect posture... surrounded by, I guess, more than a thousand people, some of them fashionable persons, but most of the lower rank of mankind. He prayed with uncommon fervency...He then preached about half an hour in such a manner as I have scarce ever heard any man preach...I think I never heard any man labor so earnestly to convince his hearers they were all by nature in a sinful, lost, undone, damnable state; that notwithstanding, there was a possibility of their salvation, through faith in Christ...All this he backed up with many texts of Scripture, which he explained and illustrated, and then by a variety of the most forcible motives, arguments, and expostulation, did he invite, allure, quicken, and labor, if it were possible, to compel all, and every of his hearers, to believe in Christ for salvation."

Charles Wesley still preaches today in much the same way through his ageless hymns that are sung around the world each Sunday. Perhaps his most exuberant anthem is the one he simply called "Hymn for Easter Day." Published in 1739. It originally consisted of eleven stanzas. The "Alleluias" were added later, but appropriately, for this is a hymn one never gets tired of singing.

Christ, the Lord, is risen today, Alleluia! Sons of man and angels say, Alleluia!
