A "Note" from the KHCC Music Department

IMMORTAL, INVISIBLE, GOD ONLY WISE

The city of Edinburgh, Scotland, with its Royal Mile and rugged hilltop castle has produced some of Christianity's greatest hymnists: George Matheson ("O Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go"), Horatius Bonar ("I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say"). Elizabeth Celphane ("Beneath the Cross of Jesus"), and William MacKay ("Revive Us Again"), to name a few. And who but the sturdy Scotch Presbyterians could produce such a powerful hymn on the sovereign, eternal power of God as "Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise"?

The author, Walter Chalmers Smith, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland on December 5, 1824. After attending grammar school at the University of Aberdeen, he enrolled in New College, Edinburgh, and was ordained as a minister in the Free Church of Scotland in 1850. He pastored churches in several places, including the lovely Scottish village of Milnathort from 1853 to 1858.

In 1874, he became pastor of the Free High Church (Presbyterian) of Edinburgh, a charge he kept until his retirement in 1894. (The beautiful building of Edinburgh's Free High Church was vacated by its members in 1934, and now serves as the library for the University of Edinburgh. It is obvious to anyone who enters the library, that it was originally a church.) Two years into his pastorate, he published a collection of hymns titled "Hymns of Christ and the Christian Life". It was here that "Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise" was introduced to the world.

Walter Smith was blessed with two other honors. In 1893, he was elected Moderator of the Free Church of Scotland. And in 1902, a collection of his poetry was published. His poems reflect his Scottish nature and remind us of Robert Burns. A number of them had appeared in various publications over the years, published under the pseudonyms "Orwell" and "Herman Knott."

"Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise" was based on I Timothy 1:17. It was originally published in six stanzas. When the hymn was republished in 1884, Smith made a few alterations. Today's version uses Smith's first three stanzas, and the fourth stanza is pieced together from lines in the now-discarded verses. The powerful melody is called St. Denio based on a Welsh folk song.

Personal note from Louise: I hope you are enjoying these "backgrounds" of our favorite hymns. I really enjoy writing them. This past week has been both joyful and sad. Joyful when I played for my dear friend, Barbara Driscoll becoming the minister of Broadmoor Christian Church. I was also very proud to see so many of KHCC's congregation there. The sad thing was my cousin, Jim Manhein passed away Friday. His service will be Tuesday.
