Fellowship Dinner by Chef Hector

Host: Christian Men's Fellowship

For: Juliette Fowler

Where: KHCC Family Life Center

Date: November 14, 2012

Time: 6:30 pm

Kings Highway will be treated to a king's feast on Nov. 14 when Chef Hector and friends from Juliette Fowler Homes in Dallas will be joining us for a special Fellowship dinner and program in recognition of Fowler's 120th anniversary. Hector Aguilar, the Executive Chef at Fowler, has planned an amazing dinner that he is personally preparing while Sabrina Porter and David Pennybacker from Juliette Fowler Homes will share the Fowler story. Founded in 1892 with a $4,000 gift and the land to start a home for indigent women and children, Juliette Fowler Homes, Inc. today is home to about 355 adult residents on a 24-acre campus at 1234 Abrams Road in Dallas. Known as Dallas' first female philanthropist, Juliette Peak Fowler was part of the Peak family, East Dallas farmers. The Fowler campus is also home to six foster children residing in a home with loving foster parents. Sabrina is President and CEO of Fowler and David is Executive Director of Ministries. Fowler is celebrating its 120th anniversary by establishing a prayer garden named in honor of Kay C. Ellis, Fowler's recently retired President and CEO. Fowler has invited individuals, families, Sunday-school classes, churches, schools and businesses to commemorate the anniversary by being a part of the commemorative brick garden. More information is available at www.Fowlerhomes.org.

Thank you Kings Highway!

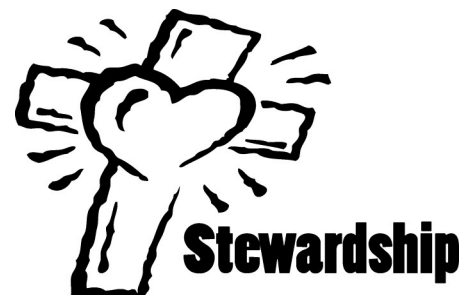

Thank you for your estimates of giving to Kings Highway that were given Stewardship Sunday. Kings Highway is an amazing place to be, and through your pledges to the church, our ministries of fellowship, help and community are made possible.

Winston Churchill once said, "We make a living with what we get. We make a life with what we give."

As we approach 2013, your gifts to the church will continue to be a tool of ministry at Kings Highway.

Thank you.

A "Note" from the KHCC Music Department

I'LL FLY AWAY

I could tell you that this old Southern hymn was written by a sacred soul on his knees with Psalm 90 open before him: "The days of our lives are seventy years, and if by reason of strength they are eighty years, yet their boast is only labor and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away."

The truth, however, is a little plainer.

Albert E. Brumley was born on a cotton farm near Spiro, Oklahoma, in 1905. The medium of radio was gaining popularity as he grew up, and one of the most requested songs was a sad ballad called "If I Had the Wings of an Angel."

One hot Oklahoma day Albert was in the fields picking cotton and singing this song. The thought of flying away suddenly seemed quite appealing to him, and he began composing "I'll Fly Away" on the spot. "I was dreaming of flying away from that cotton field when I wrote 'I'll Fly Away,'" he later said. The middle verse of Albert's song echoes the old prison ballad when it says;

When the shadows of this life have grown, I'll fly away; Like a bird from prison bars has flown, I'll fly away.

Of course, "I'll Fly Away" is about far more than escaping cotton fields. It expressed Brumley's personal hope of eternal life through Jesus Christ. It was one of a number of gospel songs he wrote during those, but all of them were stashed away in drawers and boxes, unpublished.

Two years later, Albert married Goldie Schell, whom he met while teaching a singing school in Powell, Missouri. With her encouragement, Albert mailed "I'll Fly Away" to the Hartford Music Company. It was published in 1932, and shortly afterward, Albert was hired by Hartford for $12.50 a month. He spent thirty-four years writing for the Hartford and Stamps/Baxter companies before forming the Albert E. Brumley & Sons Music Company. In all, Albert wrote over eight hundred songs and became one of the most respected names in the development of twentieth-century Southern gospel music.
