Kings Highway Christian

From the Minister. . . .

Last week I spent a day of my vacation taking my son to Dallas where we met my oldest brother at the State Fair of Texas. It was great going with both my son and my brother because we experienced two different sides of the fair. We enjoyed many of the kids' attractions—like going on rides, visiting Big Tex, and playing games on the Midway. We also saw some grownup attractions that my brother and I enjoyed and my son patiently endured—like the museum exhibits, the demonstration of the world's coolest (and most expensive) blender, and the auto show. Of course we also ate Fletcher's corn dogs and lots of other junk food since that's something that people of all ages can enjoy. The really good news is that we can do it all again starting this Thursday at the State Fair of Louisiana here in Shreveport!

When the church is at its very best it should be like a State Fair in that we should be able to offer a wide range of experiences for those who participate in the church and its ministries. The opportunities we offer for service, education, fellowship and worship should be rich enough to ensure that no two people have just the same experience here at church any more than two people have just the same experience at the fair. When individuals come here each should find what he or she needs to grow as a disciple of Jesus Christ.

Then here are two questions for you: Are you taking advantage of all that this church has to offer to help you grow spiritually? And are you contributing all that you should to this church's efforts to reach people, change their lives and help them grow? And here is one question for us as a church: What more could we do to help our members and guests grow as Christians as we serve our community together? As we prepare for the beginning of our Stewardship Campaign this Sunday and as we prepare for Commitment Sunday on November 17th, I hope that you will keep all three of these questions in mind.

In faith,

David
