El Día de los Muertos (The Day of the Death)

El Día de los Muertos is a time of celebration and remembrance of loved ones who have passed away, much like the Christian celebration All Saints' Day or the US holiday Memorial Day.

It is a day when family and friends get together to pray for and remember those friends and family members who have died. However, the Hispanic celebration El Día de los Muertos adds a little humor and shows how we can mock death and remember our dear ones with joy and happiness. It is a very colorful celebration with dances, a lot of paper flowers and Calaveras (skeletons and skulls).

To honor our dear ones we prepare their favorite foods and treats as offerings for everyone who come to the celebration.

To join our celebration we would like you to bring a covered dish (your dear one's favorite food or treat) and a picture of him or her. See you Nov. 16th!

Honoring Our Veterans

by Margaret Cagle

On Veterans' Day, we try to honor
The veterans who served our nation.
I am thankful for their service,
Transferring from station to station.

Some veterans fought on front lines.
Many veterans served in harm's way.
Special honors are due these veterans. Let us give them honor on this day.

Some fought in fox holes and trenches In some foreign lands across the sea. Others protected our dear home front, Providing safety to you and to me.

Let us be thankful to all our veterans,
And let us pray for our nation too.
May God bless America, our great land,
And for God, may Americans stand true.

*We would like to welcome our guest

From the Senior Minister

Dear Friends,

Our church secretary, Christy Duggan, has had a busy couple of weeks totaling the results of our stewardship campaign. She has worked hard to clarify the amount pledged to the general fund verses the amount pledged to the capital fund. Initially there was some understandable confusion among some of those who pledged on this point. This misunderstanding led us to announce at the luncheon on Consecration Sunday that we could expect a significant increase in our giving for the coming year. Unfortunately, those numbers were not accurate. Now that we've cleared up that confusion, and with the arrival of a few more pledges that have come in over the last two weeks, we now have a good picture of our expected giving for the coming year.

The results show that there is no doubt that we conducted a highly effective stewardship campaign in October. This year we had 110 families and individuals turn in pledges, this is a 25% increase over last year. We also had 40 families and individuals increase their pledges. As a group these families and individuals increased their giving by 7%. I can't tell you how gratifying it is to know that 40 families had the ability and the desire to grow in their giving in the coming year. I am grateful to all of the 110 families and individuals who participated in our stewardship campaign by turning in a pledge, and I am also grateful to all who we can count on to give faithfully to the church without making a pledge. I would also like to say thank you to all those who led and worked on our inspirational stewardship campaign.

As so often happens, along with the celebrations there are also challenges. Over the last year we have lost many generous supporters of our church to death and family relocation. We also have a number of families and individual who are facing changing circumstances that will, by necessity, limit their future giving. When we take all of our increases and all of our decreases into account it looks like we will need to adjust our budget for the coming year to accommodate a decrease in the total giving we expect to receive.

There are three ways that we can deal with this challenge. First, we can continue to focus on stewardship by both welcoming new members into the church and encouraging those of us already here to grow in our giving. Second, we can plan to lower our expenses. Third, we can investigate new sources of income. In the coming weeks our church's finance committee will be discussing these options as they prepare a proposed budget for the year ahead. Please keep the members of this group in your prayers in the coming weeks as they get started on this important task.

God bless,

David
